Summary Information:

General Material Designation: Photo Collection

Level of Description: Fonds

Repository: The International Woodworkers of America Archive, Kaatza Station Museum and Archives

Dates: 1900-2002

Physical Description: 3,871 photographs.

Name of Creator: International Woodworkers of America Local 1-80.

Custodial History:

In general, photographs were taken by IWA Local 1-80 staff and officers. However, some photos were donated to the collection by union members and forestry history aficionados when union staff embarked on a history preservation project. Starting in 1970, Local Union newspaper editor, Ken McEwan, was responsible for managing this collection, as well as the Wilmer Gold Collection. Veteran faller Allan Lundgren took over this responsibility in 1990.

The collection was donated to the Kaatza Station Museum and Archives by United Steelworkers Local 1-1937 in 2007.

Scope and Content:

Many of these photographs were taken by local union staff and officers as they went about their duties. They therefore document the role played by the union in workplaces, at social and community events, and at political protests. Union photographs only document events following the end of the 1948 Split, where Local Union founders associated with British Columbia District separated and formed their own union. Following the Split, photos of the previous administration were lost and, in general, not recovered.

Some photos donated to the union later in the twentieth century show forest operations and important union events going back to 1900.

Notes:

Physical Condition: Print photos were stored incorrectly for many years, and therefore many display damage such as curling or marks. The “1-80 Legacy Slides” are stored in a fridge in the Kaatza Museum’s Belltower School.

Immediate Source of Acquisition: The United Steelworkers of America Local 1-1937.

Arrangement:

The series “1-80 Legacy Slides” is in its original order. The series “1-80 Local Union Photographs” was in chaotic order and improperly stored when discovered by the archivist. It appeared that matching segments of the collection had at some point been mixed around, likely unintentionally. The numbering, however remained contiguous, and was likely applied after said mixing event. The archivist was forced to implement their own organizational categories in order to create some semblance of order.

Series 1: 1-80 Legacy Compilation

Date: 1900-1956

Scope and Content: The slides and photographs in this collection were donated to Local 1-80 by early union activists and forest workers, and include meta-data attached by union staff and volunteers. They depict organizing events in the early history of the I.W.A. in British Columbia, as well as early logging and milling operations. Donors include Hjalmer Bergren, Lottie Thew, Albert Tickle, Bill Ripka, Ray Macham, BC Provincial Archives, Frank Elliot, Fred Kallstrom, Everitt White, Pete Steinhour, Sid Young, Ed Peck, Gerry Danielson, Denny Ludvigson, Wagon Wheel Antiques, J. M. Howe, Arnold Edwards, Jack Bucklee, Wayne Lowry, George Zizac, Roberta Clarke, Fred Bullcock, Ray Bennett, Howard Heyd, Mrs George Anderson, Cliff Halliday, Ed Peck, Linda McNyre, Rob Gravelle, Howard Vaux, Art Green.

Physical Description: 297 slides.

Series 2: 1-80 Local Union Photographs

Date: 1951-2004

Scope and Content: The photos in this series were taken by union officers and staff as they went about their various functions as representatives of the I.W.A. They show I.W.A. staff, officers, and members, union social events and public-facing community events, protests attended by union activists, and the operations where employees were represented by the I.W.A.

Physical Description: 3,280 photographs in protective sleeves.

Note on Arrangement: Although the numbering system and physical order on this series has been maintained, for the purpose of this finding aid the archivist implemented an intellectual order according to type of union activity (each subseries) and chronology (within each subseries), to improve organization and ease of access.
